'Bringing faith and education together'

Our value this term is COURAGE

Be strong, be courageous. Do not be afraid; do not be discouraged, for the lord your God will be with you wherever you go.

[Joshua 1:9]

I'm sure you've kept up to date with lots of sporting success at the start of the week via Dojo and or school Instagram or Twitter feeds! We are so proud of every child who has represented our school at sports this term. They've brought home a lot of success, medals and so many comments about fantastic attitudes and sporting behaviour – what a credit they have been to you as parents and us as a school!

This week I hoped Miss Dennis had inspired young writers in school to write a newsletter to take over from me! Her Year 6 class received a Christmas card, poster and book mark from author Mel Taylor-Bessent; and she also leads Journalism Club on Mondays after school. Their first edition was a brilliant success – however it seems they are happy for me to continue doing weekly newsletters for now but have been planning the next edition when clubs resume next term. Don't let your child miss out – make sure they've signed up for term 3 clubs (deadline is end of the day today!).

Thank you to everyone who came to parents' consultations this week – it was so good to see so many of you and it was lovely to see the children showing you pieces of their work they are proud of. If you missed your consultation for any reason, please contact your child's teacher and arrange time with them as supporting and sharing your child's progress is very important.

But of course, you can't get away from the festive spirit in school this week! There have been naughty elves, posting of Christmas cards and letters to Santa and wearing Christmas jumpers. Every child was also given a wooden decoration for their own creation to dress our Christmas Tree – which I have to say looks stunning! Each child should get their own one back at the end of term to add to their own tree at home.

There have also been nativity rehearsals to the school which we've loved and the children cannot wait to share with you at various points next week (see the last week dates attached as a final reminder of a very busy week!). However, I have been told I am NOT allowed to give any preview photos or teasers to you – so we hope you enjoy the performances as much as the children have had rehearsing and recording them!
